This is a brick house 3 bays wide and 3 bays deep on a high brick foundation. The door is in the center of the gable end. The window sashes are modern replacements. The windows are topped by rounded arches composed of two rows of headers. There are 2 small windows in the pediment. One side of the roof has two dormers on it. A porch runs along two sides of the first story. The basement foundation of the house has a molded water table. A two and a half storey brick addition has been added to the rear of this house. Olney House has been converted into a dormitory at Maryland State College. The brick has been painted red and all of the interior has been ripped out and modern dormitory partitions put in. From all appearances only the brick shell of the original Olney House remains, all else has been altered past recognition. * Present owner: University of Maryland, Division of		OPEN TO PUBLIC No
